1. On 13 February 1951, the Military Affairs Commission (MAC) at Shihoh'i (113-22, 22-30) received information that 2 divisions, one from each of two armies of the 15 Army Group, 4 Field Army, would arrive on 17 March at points along the Canton-Kowloon Railway. Members of the MAC believe these divisions of the 15 Army Group are remnants of army-sized units which suffered losses in Korea and were sent to South China to regroup and recruit additional troops.
2. Officers of the MAC were informed that elements of the 3 Field Army, formerly stationed along the Canton-Kowloon Railway, were moving into the Swatow area.
